

Raffles Design International celebrates first Annual Graduation for its BA (Visual Communications) Program

Raffles Design International, which has articulation with Raffles-KvB Institute of Technology Sydney, successfully celebrated the graduation of its first batch of Bachelor Degree of Visual Communications students. The 13 students are from graphic design and fashion design majors. The degrees are recognized internationally by the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses (CRICOS).

As a truly international design training provider, the evening also showcased an international fashion parade of its Advanced Diploma students from Mumbai, Shanghai, Kuala Lumpur and Bangkok. The faculty at Raffles come from a myriad of nations like America, Brazil, Columbia, Canada and others.

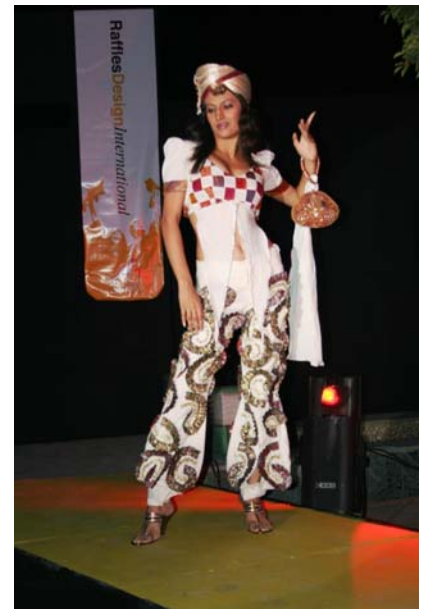

In the extravagant ceremony held at a prestigious hotel, the students were conferred their certificates by Mr. Patrick Bernard, Head of School and Offshore Degree Coordinator from Raffles KvB Australia. The quality of the program and its graduates are further endorsed by the announcements made by its Center Director, Mr Chris Lee.

The other proud announcement for Raffles is that one of its graduates, Mr. Ankit Shekhawat has been admitted to the Master's program at the prestigious Domus Academy of Italy. When Mr. Ankit Shekhawat was asked about his experience with Raffles-KvB, his comments were, "Raffles KvB taught me to see things with a wider (international) outlook. It changed the way I look at my own culture and cultures different from mine. Raffles-KvB let me question the difference."

The event was attended by designers from prominent design houses like Rocky S as well as MTV VJs Anousha Dandekar and Ranvijay Singh. All the guests were impressed by the graduation works on display. It is evident that the international curriculum and faculty at Raffles Design have made a difference to these young designers.
